

UCSD Radiation Oncology South Bay Doctor Delivers Keynote Address at International Cancer Conference

February 25, 2011

UCSD radiation oncologist and world renowned authority on neuro-oncology Dr. Kevin T. Murphy chosen as keynote speaker for 2011 Cancer-CI conference; formally inaugurates meeting in Hyderabad, India.

Dr. Kevin T. Murphy, radiation oncologist at UC San Diego Radiation Oncology South Bay, formally introduced the 4th biennial Cancer-CI conference (Cancer Care, Education & Research Conference Internationale) held February 25-27, 2011 in Hyderabad, India. The forum focused on advances in the management of brain, head & neck, breast and gynecologic malignancies and also featured a neuro and medical oncology workshop. Some of the specific topics covered included new technologies in radiation therapy, molecular level therapy for the treatment of brain tumors, the role of HPV in cervical cancer and the latest treatment guidelines from the National Comprehensive Cancer Network (NCCN). Dr. Murphy, one of thirteen internationally eminent oncologists on the conference faculty, delivered a keynote address regarding new technologies of Stereotactic Radiosurgery (SRS), a highly precise form of radiation therapy used most often to treat tumors of the brain. According to a press conference held by the sponsoring hospital, the event was attended by over 1,500 delegates from India and abroad.

Board Certified in Radiation Oncology, Dr. Murphy is the Medical Director at UC San Diego Radiation Oncology South Bay located in Chula Vista, CA. In addition to his work at UCSD, Dr. Murphy is an active member of the American Society for Therapeutic Radiology and Oncology (ASTRO), American College of Radiation Oncology (ACRO) and Children's Oncology Group (COG).
